JCFIA KENTUCKIANA

HAZ-MAT & RESCUE CONFERENCE

2004

May 10th - 16th 2004

The Kentuckiana Haz-Mat & Rescue Conference

Classroom Instruction

Has a long history in the region for providing quality classes for the Emergency first responder in a field that is sometimes ignored in other traditional Fire Schools. Our goal is to offer extended length classes and hard to get continuing education hours at the training facilities in the Louisville/Jefferson County Metro area. By having weeklong classes close to your region it is possible to have a daily commute to classes and not spend valuable budget funds on lodging and meals.

If you do wish to stay in town for the Extended Classes we will provide the cheapest rates available to serve you more conveniently. In addition to cheap rates Transportation to and from the Conference will be provided to all who stay in town.

Included in Conference

- Tee shirt
- Continental Breakfast
- Lunch

Are all included with any class offered at the conference.
